A majority of the man affected voted to deprive themselves of work and wages at the election last fall. To that extent they are responsible for the miseries which beset them.

THE financial situation has improved very materially within the last week, which is due to the fact that President Cleveland has shown a disposition to allow the new corgress to show the people what it proposes to do with the finan-cial question. This has in a measure re-assured the people, and they are not now elamoring for their deposits wherever a of depositors that their bank may be little shaky. Two-thirds of the banks, at a fair estimate, that have been forced to suspend, were forced to it by a foolish misapprehension of the real causes of the present depression in financial affairs, and this in turn forced banks to call in all the money they could reach for selfprotection; which in turn made matters more stringent. All this was due to a panicky feeling that took possession of the people in many localities over the for all this. The silver law did not make banks shaky. All it did was to cause a faar on the part of those who held our securities, and capitalists in general who rency; which of course prevented them from making further loans until they could know what was to be done with depreciated silver by the new congress out, as before stated, the runs on panks by depositors, in a large majority of ases, was absolutely foolish and unresmable. This foolish fear has passed off, and in this respect matters are better. The real trouble, however, still exists,

THE SAENGERFEST. n's Day at the Peast of Song in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, July 14.—Yesterday was children's day at the stengerfest, for it was the children who monopolized the greater part of the attention at the afternoon concert. They were all pupils of the public schools of this city, and they sang under the direction of Prof. N. P. Coe Stewart, who has charge of their instruction. They begran to arrive at the fest building at began to arrive at the fest building at noon, and almost 8,000 of them were seated on the mammoth stage ready to sing when the time for the concert began.

They had two numbers on the programme. The first was the chorus, "The Heavens are Telling," from "The Creation," and it is said that this is the largest body of young children who ever essayed to give this beautiful com-position. Their other number on the programme was patriotic. It was an American flag song by John Zundell, and a composition entitled "Columbia" by Prof. N. F. Coe Stewart.

During the rendition of the flagson the children waved hundreds of smal American flags and the sight was very pleasing.
The chorus numbers at the evening concert were confined to the members of the saengerbund and they were beautifully rendered. In fact the singing was more uniform and much of an improvement on that the day before. The compositions given were "The Grave in Busento," "Rheniah Folks Song," and "Triumph of the German Lay."

At the afternoon concert the Nev At the afternoon concert the New Orleans Frohsinn society sing "Morning in the Forest," by Koelner. It was well given and a recoil was requested. The soloists of the day were Rise Olive Fermstadt, Signer Victor Chodio, Miss Lillian Blaavel and Mile. Reta Eland. There was a quartette song in the evening by Signer Chodia, Miss Blaqvelt, Miss Fremstadt and Mr. Fisher that was greeted with one of the heartiest encores of the week.

CHICAGO, July 14.-All persons about the government building who were in any way connected officially with Judge Jenkins express great regret at his arrest in Milwaukee Tuesday. In all the talk which takes place not sword of suspicion is heard, the tenor word of suspicion is heard, the tenor of all being sympathetic and entirely expressive of the great confidence in which the jurist is held. Judge Woods arrived in the city yesterday morning and concerning the reports published yesterday says: "While we all feel greatly concerned and grieved we do not imagine but what the whole matter will be cleared eventually in the judge's favor. From all that can be learned he himself is as much a victim as any one, for he trusted to others to flook after his interest in the Plajhkinton bank. I am not familiar with the case and can say nothing of the legality of the proceedings on the evidence submitted.

New Interpretation of the Sherman WASHINGTON, July 14 .- It is understood that the treasury department holds that it is not required by the Sherman law to purchase 4,500,000 ouncer of silver each month. The law reads "The secretary of the treasury is hereby directed to purchase, from time to time, silver bullion to the aggregate of 4,500,000 ounces, or so much thereof as may be offered in each month at the market price thereof, etc. Under this construction, if the price does not suit the department, it is held that purchases need not be made in any special month so long as the aggregate is maintained. The decision as to what the market price is is made by the director of the mint, who makes the purchase. The acting derector of the mint expects to get his full quota this month

Another Molitor Murderer Convicted Alpena, Mich., July 14.—William Repke, who confessed and implicated twelve others in the murder of Albert Molitor at Rogers City in 1875, has beer found guilty of murder in the first degree. #### A GREAT INDUSTRY.

Slaughtering City.

TWO LEADING DRESSED-BEEF FIRMS

St. Louis, July 14.—An important adustrial item for St. Louis to-day the beginning of business by Swift the National stock yards on the Eas side. Hundreds of men are already as work and the force will be augmented day by day until everything is in ful tions which have for some time been apparent to keen and observant pack-ers of the country and which were no longer to be ignored. The geographiosition and the extensive shipping facilities by rail and water were con trolling elements that have deter fined Swift & Co. as well as others to tivity at the National stock yards since the change in ownership two years ago and the outlook for the future promise far greater things than have yet been developed. A marked hindrance to developed. A marked hindrance to the progress of the yard heretofore has been the lack of consumption of cattle as well as other stock. The receipts and sales have been high, but the fact that the place was mainly a clearing-house did not give it the desired im-portance. Packing-houses that kill and dress and then ship to the market are consumers, and they vastly reduces are consumers, and they vastly reduce the visible supply of stock; whereas, to merely receive, sell and ship live stock o a place.

The first active step at the yards was in 1890, when the St. Louis Dressed Beef Co. was sold to Nelson Morris & Co. The former had done only a moderate business, but Morris & Co. en-larged the plant and took hold of mat-ters with a vim. They now have a slaughtering and dressing capacity of over 1,000 cattle a day, besides their dealings in sheep and hogs, and often-times the establishment is pushed to its utmost. This large industry was a great step toward material progress, vet it was felt that this market was far from what it ought to be, from the advantages afforded by its nat-ural position, etc. It remained for Swift & Co. the greatest handlers of dressed boef in the handlers of dressed beef in the world, to give things at least a satisfactory impetus, and this the new establishment will impart. Swift & Co. bought the old Whittaker plant, which has been completely remodeled, and besides this they have added several new large buildings, the whole being fitted with the latest improved facilities for the business, so that no packties for the business, so that no packing house in the country is as well equipped as regards expedition and economy. This company has twentyive acres of ground within the stock whereby all of this large space will be consumed. The concern handles cattle, sheep and logs and slaughters and drosses them with surprising dispatch. The meats and the by-prod-ucts go direct from here to all parts of world. The financial outlay thus far is nearly $750,000, and a significant fact is that several of the buildings have but temporary inclosures at one end, the object evidently being to easily admit of their extension. Now that the swift plant is well under way it will be found a very important factor in building up the St. Louis market to the point it deserves.

Right on top of this event comes the report that Nelson Morris & Co. are to make a big extension to their works in make a big extension to their works in order to accommodate the rapidly growing business. Some days ago there was recorded at Belleville a transfer of about sixteen acres of ground from the National Stock Yards Co. to Morris & Co. It is stated that pround from the National Stock Yards (Co. to Morris & Co. It is stated that Mr. Morris believes this market to be one of the best, and, in fact, that it promises to be the leading one.

The yards company, to provide for the jargement of the properties of the leading one.

The yards company, to provide for the jargement of the jargement of the properties of the leading one. The yards company, to provide for the increased demands expected by reason of the new packing houses, has for the past four months been making extensive improvements in the accom-modations, chief among these being a new exchange building for offices and a restaurant. The structure is of brick, measures 50x150, is of three stories, and has steam heat, electric lights and a finish of hardwood.

There is a complete new system of unloading chutes connected with the main yards by two new heavy via-ducts, one for native and the other for quarantine cattle; also, new loading chutes and new shipping divisions for cattle, besides miles of additional railroad trackes for atorage of cars, and will thus give a total trackage of about twenty-five miles. These improve-ments will insure the rapid and con-venient handling of a largely-increased supply of stock.

It is well worthy of remark that this market has the distinction of being the only place in the west which so far the only place in the west which so far this year has shown a gain in all branches of stock—cattle, hogs, sheep and horses. The increase of cattle receipts for the first half of 1893 has been within a small fraction of 100 per cent. over the corresponding period of 1892. As the Swift establishment did not figure in this business, it will be observed that the last half of this year is they to show phenomenal results.
